Copper-Zinc Mineralization intersected at Wapawekka, Saskatchewan

Golconda Resources Ltd. is pleased to announce that a drill program to test several anomalies outlined by an airborne survey flown in April, 2005 over its Wapawekka property intersected copper-zinc sulphide mineralization in a zone parallel and about 500 m distant from the massive sulphide zone intersected in 2001 by three drill-holes. That zone showed an estimated true thickness of over 20m in hole WAE-2.

This year's drill program tested four of the thirteen anomalies -outlined by the airborne survey- with two diamond drill-holes each.

The first three anomalies are situated in the northwestern part of the property and are regionally-developed parallel sulphide zones that can be traced for a distance of over 8 km. Elevated copper-zinc values in anomaly One and elevated platinum values in several pyrrhotite (iron-sulphide) zones in anomaly Three warrant further drilling along the trend.

The fourth anomaly that was drill-tested is situated in the northeastern part of the property. It starts about 300 m away from Wapawekka Lake and runs to the northeast into the lake. The anomaly becomes considerably stronger about 350 m into the lake and stays strong for about 1500 m.

- Hole WEL-1 intersected, at 305 m depth, a 3.20 m thick exhalite zone consisting of cherts, silica sinter and a 1.20 m thick zone of laminated and disseminated sulphides (approximately 15%) with visible scarce chalcopyrite (copper) and sphalerite (zinc).
- WEL-2 was drilled 140 m to the northeast as close to the shore of Wapawekka Lake as possible. At 219.60 m depth it intersected a 0.90 m-thick zone of semi-massive and disseminated sulphide (approximately 25%) with a much higher content of copper and zinc sulphides. WEL-2 also intersected, from 360m to 395m, numerous quartz-calcite veinlets containing pyrrhotite and chalcopyrite. This zone could form part of the feeder system.

The strong increase in the copper and zinc content from WEL-1 to WEL-2 and continuing towards the higher values of the anomaly that start 350 m into the lake, as well as the great thickness of the parallel zone drilled in 2001, give this sulphide zone an excellent potential to contain economic massive sulphide mineralization.

A private party that can earn a 30% interest in the property by spending 1 million dollars is financing the exploration. Permits for winter drilling on the ice are being applied for. Samples have been sent to ALS-Chemex Labs in Vancouver and will be released when available.

Guenter Liedtke is the designated qualified person responsible for exploration on the project under NI 43-101.

Roger Talermo, President and CEO:

"Amer Sports' acquisition of the Salomon business became effective on October 19, 2005. The work to integrate the business operations of Amer Sports and Salomon can now begin. Our aim is to increase Salomon's profitability to meet our financial targets. The estimate of synergies we made when the transaction was announced has been confirmed. These synergies are primarily generated by industrial operations in the winter sports business. In addition, synergies are expected in administration and R&D.

In the January-September period, Amer Sports' net sales rose by 4%. Net sales growth in local currency terms amounted to 5%. The fastest sales growth was seen in the Fitness Equipment Division, whose net sales increased by 16% in local currency terms.

The trend in Racquet Sports remained favorable. In local currency terms, net sales rose by 6% in the January-September period compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. The net sales and EBIT of the Golf Division underperformed expectations. Net sales were down 5% in local currency terms compared with the same period a year ago. Net sales of Sports Instruments declined by 5% in January-September.

Growth in Team Sports was better than expected. Net sales rose by 10% in local currency terms compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. Sales in Asia Pacific grew by 52%.

Thanks to the robust third quarter, the net sales of Winter Sports increased by 2% in the January-September period. September saw the division break all its previous monthly delivery records. Sales of alpine ski boots were up 42%. Alpine ski boots comprise the Winter Sports Division's fastest-growing product group."

The acquisition of Salomon will substantially increase Amer Sports' net sales in the last quarter of the present year (Salomon's net sales in October-December 2004 amounted to EUR 253 million). The Salomon acquisition is not expected to have a 'significant effect on Amer Sports' earnings per share in the current fiscal year. The payment of the Salomon acquisition was carried out on October 19 instead of September 30 as originally planned. Due to the financing already secured for the payment, the Group's liquid assets amounted to EUR 278.9 million at the end of the period and interest-bearing liabilities to EUR 421.5 million, of which EUR 6.1 million comprised long-term liabilities. Consequently the equity ratio declined to 43.0% (September 30, 2004: 52.1%). The financing obtained did not impact on gearing, which was 29% at period's end (September 30, 2004: 34%).

The trend in the Racquet Sports Division remained favorable. In local currencies, net sales grew by 6% in the January-September period compared with the corresponding period of last year. Sales grew by 6% in the Americas, by 5% in EMEA and by 7% in Asia Pacific.

Net sales growth was attributable in large part to the worldwide success of Wilson tennis rackets. Many professional players scored victories with Wilson nCode rackets in 2005. Wilson tennis racket sales grew by 8% in local currency terms during the January-September period. Sales of tennis balls increased by 4%.

During the review period, Wilson's product launches included the world's first line of high-performance tennis rackets designed specifically for women called the W Line by Wilson. These rackets are based on Wilson's nCode technology and feature a new racket construction and distinct cosmetics.

The agreement making Wilson the Official Ball of the Australian Open came into effect during the third quarter.

The Racquet Sports Division continued to invest in and focus on increasing the market share of the global badminton market. Badminton equipment sales rose by 41% in local currency terms.

EBIT grew by 16% to EUR 26.0 million. EBIT was increased by higher sales and overall gross profit margins.

The Golf Division's net sales and EBIT underperformed expectations in the January-September period. Net sales in local currencies declined by 5% compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. Sales declined by 7% in the Americas and by 6% in EMEA. In Asia Pacific, sales were up 3%.

Sales of Wilson golf clubs decreased by 6% in January-September. Golf ball sales rose by 3% compared with the same period a year earlier.

According to the company's own estimates, the global golf market remained on a par with the previous year. Sales of golf clubs to the trade in the United States rose by 5% in January-September, while golf balls were up 2% (National Golf Foundation 10/2005).

EBIT was down EUR 1.6 million on the corresponding period of the previous year. This was a result of lower sales and the lower gross profit margins necessitated by a highly competitive marketplace.

Decisions to boost the Golf Division's operational efficiency and reduce costs will be made during the last quarter.

TEAM SPORTS

Wilson is the number one team sports company in the USA and its position is especially strong in American football, basketball, and baseball.

The Winter Sports Division's deliveries are heavily weighted towards the latter part of the year, the busiest months for deliveries being September and October.

In local currency terms, the Winter Sports Division's net sales increased by 2% in January-September compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. Sales rose by 9% in EMEA. In the Americas, sales fell by 21%, which was partly due to poor weather conditions in the first part of the year. Sales of alpine ski boots were up 42%.

EBIT came in at EUR 3.2 million (9.1). One of the major reasons underlying the decline in EBIT was the waning of sales in North America.

The Winter Sports Division will continue to develop innovative products. The IZOR ski line, the first line to utilize nanotechnology, was very well received in all markets.

The order book for the rest of the year is on a par with the corresponding period of the previous year.

FITNESS EQUIPMENT

The Fitness Equipment Division is a full-line supplier of technically advanced, premium quality fitness equipment for the commercial and home markets. Precor is the world's leading manufacturer of elliptical crosstrainers.

Stated in local currencies, the Fitness Equipment Division's EBIT grew by 11%. The division was able to partly pass on the increased costs of steel and freight in its selling prices.

Expansion of Precor's product range into strength training and entertainment systems and services has bolstered Precor's position as a major international full-line supplier.

SPORTS INSTRUMENTS

Suunto is the world's leading manufacturer of sports instruments, most notably wristop computers, diving instruments, and compasses.

Suunto sports instruments help outdoor enthusiasts and athletes to measure their performance, analyze their development, and share and compare their experiences.

SALOMON ACQUISITION

Amer Sports Corporation's acquisition of the Salomon business and its brands was seen to completion on October 19, 2005. The transaction was approved by both the EU Commission and the US competition authorities.

The transaction value is expected to be approximately EUR 485 million based on year-end 2004 figures. The final price will be set in accordance with net assets as at September 30, 2005. The transaction price includes EUR 144 million in goodwill. Amer Sports is financing the transaction with debt, which is expected to bring its gearing ratio to approximately 110% by the end of 2005.

The combined net sales of Amer Sports and Salomon (pro forma 2004) amount to about EUR 1.7 billion and their employees total 7,500. Salomon will comprise its own business area. Amer Sports and Salomon will continue to serve their customers around the world as before with their own separate sales organizations. Amer Sports and adidas-Salomon will cooperate for a maximum period of three years to ensure support for the transferred business.

Amer Sports expects to realize annual cost-savings of EUR 40 million at Salomon by the end of 2008 thanks to synergies and the restructuring measures that have already been initiated. The synergies will mainly be achieved from industrial operations in the winter sports business. In addition, synergies are expected in administration and R&D. Decisions to boost the efficiency of Salomon's business operations and lower costs will be made during the last quarter.

Salomon will be consolidated into Amer Sports Corporation's figures as from October 1, 2005. The Salomon acquisition will substantially increase Amer Sports' net sales in the last quarter of the current year. The transaction is estimated to have no significant impact on Amer Sports' earnings per share in the current fiscal year.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE

During the second quarter, Amer Sports Corporation sold a factory property and related company housing in Hyrylä. The properties were sold to two separate Finnish real estate investors. The transaction price totaled about EUR 7 million, with the capital gains on the sale amounting to EUR 5.9 million before tax.

ADOPTION OF NEW IFRS STANDARDS

As from January 1, 2005, Amer Sports has applied the new IFRS standards IFRS 5 (Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations) and IFRS 2 (Share-based Payment). The application of IFRS 5 affects the presentation of the comparative information for 2004 such that the net effect of the tobacco business - which was sold last year - on the result for the period is presented on a single line as a separate item from continuing operations. The 2004 income statement for continuing operations does not include any items related to the tobacco business. According to IFRS 2, warrants granted to the Group's management must be expensed in the income statement. The retroactive application of this standard reduces the previously reported net result for the 2004 financial year by EUR 1.9 million. The key indicators for 2004 have been recalculated, as applicable, to correspond to the changes described above.

OUTLOOK FOR 2005

In 2005, Amer Sports' comparable net sales in local currencies - exclusive of Salomon - are expected to grow by 5% compared with last year.

The Salomon acquisition will substantially increase Amer Sports' net sales in the last quarter of the present year (Salomon's net sales were EUR 253 million in October-December 2004). The Salomon acquisition is estimated to have no significant impact on Amer Sports' earnings per share in the current fiscal year. Earnings per share are expected to amount to EUR 0.90-1.00 (continuing operations in 2004: EUR 0.96).
